3 Ta Da! Runbeck Election Services has a product called Sentio that can print ballots on-demand and off-site. Were they used? Runbeck is a Dominion certified printer and Georgia uses Runbeck.

PCR tests are fake.

The original ones in this came from China, were giving off false positives.

We now have 2 instances where fruit puree and coke trigger the rapid tests as positive.

Elon Musk took 4 tests on same day, from same nurse, from same lab - 2+, 2-.

The inventor of PCR tests said they were not meant to detect viruses. Even at 40 cycles, this would detect anything - things only God should see.

A doctor and owner of a PCR testing manufacturer in North Carolina joined a Toronto (?) zoom call to say this was all crap.

He's eating steak dinners on CCP/Dominion money and celebrating the return to "normal" politics. Even if Trump gets this all turned around, and stays as President, guys like Kemp need to be handled by serious local pressure. At least Newsom in California is facing a recall. Kemp is getting away with blatant treason Daily. I'll venmo over pizza money. People here will back it up. But we need people in Georgia to making a scene. The internet is useless at this point. 1 I think the problem most people are thinking about is the Lt Gov. Geoff Duncan is totally on board with Kemp's corruption. I guess some people feel like it wouldn't be worth the effort. Also, I don't think people understand how to put a recall effort together. If somebody high profile, like Hershel Walker, helped organize one, it might get a lot of support.

Go read his opinion, don't be intimidated, Justice Scalia's opinion is written with the clarity and brevity that bespeaks the genius he will always be. Pay attention to paragraphs 18, 19, 20:

4 ▼ Here is what I think Justice Scalia is saying in 18; The right to empanel a Grand Jury is mentioned in the Bill of Rights (so the right exists). It was not mentioned in the Constitution and not assigned to any branch of the government - Example, the House holds the Purse.

So it is a Right but it is not assigned to any branch so the Right is retained by the people. Justice Scalia says: " It " 'is a constitutional fixture in its own right.'"

Scalia says:

“ In fact the whole theory of its function is that it belongs to no branch of the institutional government, serving as a kind of buffer or referee between the Government and the people. He then confirms the Grand Jury's independence by stating: Judges' direct involvement in the functioning of the grand jury has generally been confined to the constitutive one of calling the grand jurors together and administering their oaths of office

Once justice Scalia establishes those two characteristics, it is a Right reserved to the people and it is independent the fun really starts.

In 19 he says:

“ "Unlike [a] [c]ourt, whose jurisdiction is predicated upon a specific case or controversy, the grand jury 'can investigate merely on suspicion that the law is being violated, or even because it wants assurance that it is not.'"

Independence on steroids, then he adds:

“ It (the Grand Jury) need not identify the offender it suspects, or even "the precise nature of the offense" it is investigating.

“ The grand jury requires no authorization from its constituting court to initiate an investigation, nor does the prosecutor require leave of court to seek a grand jury indictment. And in its day-to-day functioning, the grand jury generally operates without the interference of a presiding judge. It swears in its own witnesses and deliberates in total secrecy.

In 20 Justice Scalia tell us:

“ True, the grand jury cannot compel the appearance of witnesses and the production of evidence, and must appeal to the court when such compulsion is required. And we (Supreme Court) have insisted that the grand jury remain "free to pursue its investigations unhindered by external influence or supervision so long as it does not trench upon the legitimate rights of any witness called before it

I copied the document from Cornell Archives and removed all the citations (probably a sin in someone's book). I took them out here too, it is much easier to understand without all those numbers and references making your eyes roll back into your head.

The dot in the bottom need to be centered in the dashes. The tabulator looks for the dot to tell it where to look for the markings. That dot even though looks off by a quarter of an inch- the computer is told to look for the vote that is filled in on the other side of the paper where there is none. So it says to the user- ADJUDICATION PROCESS BECAUSE THERE IS A PROBLEM

Then they take the file of thousands of adjudicated votes and mass move to all Biden without looking at them. Then delete the images so nobody can see they were Trump votes.

They had Republicans vote on dummy ballots that were printed incorrectly.

The Dominion machines then spit out the dummy ballots and asked for correction.

During the correction process, Democrats changed the votes from Trump to Biden and then deleted the correction evidence.

▼ This image is a poor example.

However it does show the misalignment of the reference stripes.

This is critical, because to a human eye with no context it doesn't look like an error.

As far as the scanner is concerned, this misalignment pushes the expected location of the circles away from where the voter would have placed them. This means that the scanner is going to send ALL of these ballots to be adjudicated.

The adjudication process changes the adjudicated ballot into the legally cast ballot. The original scan is not retained. This also opens an explanation for why there are so many ballots that only voted for Biden, the adjudicator didn't realize that they were erasing the down ballot races.

▼ I think people who see misalignment in the reference stripes are blind or have zero spatial awareness from spending too much time in the dark on their computer.

I literally cannot see a single strip that is misaligned between the two. The final alignment stripe lines up exactly on #10

The plus sign which starts the alignment stripes, appear exactly to the right of the bottom dots running along the left side of the ballot.

The first stripe lines perfectly with the right side of the large black stripe on the bottom.

The stripes in the middle are different because they are like a barcode, so they should be different, but they are aligned perfectly for the data they are coded to, and line up with the stripes alongside the bottoms of the ballots.

This is stupid fake news and Trump supporters can do better. We can expose the fraud without having to lie about shit.

The misalignment that every single thing hangs on is to the left of it.

That little tiny dot to the left of the red rectangles.

It tells the optical eye where to look on the page for the filled in vote.

If you super zoom in on the right image you can see it is way out of alignment.

Should be smack in the middle of the +. So when the tabulator is told look at the far right of page it sees no circled in votes. It tells the person to adjudicate because I dont understand the vote

The shitty ms paint red boxes will never align because the camera angle isn't perfectly 90* head on to the ballot, its off to the left and angled a bit. The blue ballot the camera is from the bottom and angled up.

The video does a much better job of explaining it, and OP should have not been a faggot and put a shitty ms paint red square on the ballots without accounting for camera perspective first.

Just clip the video and delete this fake news image meme post.

The text shown on the OPs image... is actually for THE NEXT slide that pulitzer is talking about. So the ALIGNMENT is discussed on the image that is shown NEXT in the video, but is not shown in the OPs image.

The text on ALIGNMENT seen in the image from the OP... the next slide after that shows what he is talking about with regards to the alignment... and that is the mis-aligned tic marks on the side of the page, that would force the republican ballots into adjudication.

20 This is how they have stolen the election.They altered the paper ballots on purpose to force adjudication.More than 90% of ballots were adjudicated. Which means somebody else decided on your vote, They were very clever, somebody smart was behind of all this, for this reason they will not allow access to physical ballots.It think also FBI was involved no way some whistle blower reported that before to FBI.They had HB laptop and did nothing.For this reason they(democrats) were so relaxed and Biden was hidden in the basement(not make fatal mistakes when opening his mouth.To make more plausible the theft. Yes all the swamp(including republicans) colluded to eliminate president Trump.

4 Yeah except I think Biden wasn't hiding in his basement and sleeping, I think he was plotting and overseeing the Election Fraud with his team. Doesn't that make more sense? It had the added benefit of hiding him from the public, but they must have loved it when we were making memes of him going into his basement to sleep, because we were providing him cover for the Election Fraud. I think he was calling "a lid" at 9am and then he and his team spent the day holding meetings and preparing for "the most extensive voter fraud organization in U.S. history". I don't think Biden was in charge of the fraud, but I think he was kept in the loop, and might have even been the final sign off on some of these actions.

Anyone able to do an a animation to show how the fraud was done.

Seems like.

Original ballot scanned

Computer produces image file of scan

When scanned though it gets flagged up as a ballot with an error so must go to adjudication (this is not overseen by bipartisan parties)

Adjudicated ballots can be switched/changed and then will create a new ballot image file.

The original ballot file image is destroyed/replaced

Original paper ballot? Well, what were those shredding machines doing?

Someone also mentioned. For a hand recount. They print the updated current file images and count those#. So the original ballot and original ballot scan is lost forever and never recounted.

Correct me if im wrong. Put this into an animation please. It will make sense to millions of americans guaranteed. It's not evidence they are after. They want to understand how it was done.

▼ In this case in Georgia, someone needs to describe (ELI5) the procedure for distributing the mail-in and absentee ballots. If it is based on party affiliation, there is the first gate for separating the red and blue voters.

If the ballots appear to be substantially similar, then examine the source code for subtle printing variances in the barcodes when processed by a high-speed scanner. This is not a task for weak-eyed retirees volunteering as poll watchers.

A memory card with a pre-loaded jump-start.

A source code that allocates a redistribution of the running tally from red to blue. The signatures will match and the total tally will balance. In theory, the ballots should be dropping into a locked box that is preserved in a secure location for 22-months.

None of these simple audit checks are happening in front of truly impartial representatives from both the red and blue teams.

7 ▼ Each local precinct has their own ballot.

It probably varies by state, but in my state, each county is made up of cities and townships. Townships are the unincorporated areas, basically laid out on a grid. Each township is an election precinct, and each city has one or more wards, each of which is an election precinct.

Each election precinct has a custom ballot that includes all races that precinct is involved in - President (if that term is up), federal senate (if that term is up), federal house, state senate (if that term is up), state house, state governor (if that term is up), county board (if that term is up), city or township commissioner (if that term is up), school board, state district court judges (for any whose terms are up), and potentially many more - think school bond referendums, state constitutional amendments, agricultural boards, boards for special taxation districts, etc.

Around here, our ballots give the state, county and precinct in writing at the top. The Georgia ballots just have the county, but their ballot as a whole is still specific to one subdivision within that county, just like ours is.

2 We will never be stronger and more united than we are now, too. What I think is especially important is people still have living memories of the old normal. You know, when churches were open and people could go to the park or eat at a restaurant or visit family or not wear a muzzle. Children have already started to forget this world even existed (ask them), others have already started to say they "prefer" the new normal, but right now most people still remember what things used to be like. In another five years, ten years, twenty years, people aren't going to remember any of it. The muzzles will be standard practice and going out in public without a muzzle will be like going out in public naked.

But im not clear what the bottom two images are showing. It just looks like each ballot has a unique number encoded.

Im not seeing the mechanical alignment error. The image on bottom right is just crooked. You can see the edge of the paper.

3 Watch the video here, these are Pulitzer's graphics and he explains everything:

2 If you watch the video testimony Jovan Pulitzer explains the differences in the ways the black bars are

The voting machine is forced to spit out the ballot as invalid just as a vending machine would reject a dollar bill that can't be read properly. The scanned images of these invalid ballots are tossed into a folder for adjudication (where they can be flipped from Trump to Biden and/or deleted).

4 ▼ Trump brought back hanging and firing squad. This bastard needs to be tried for crimes against America and the sentence should be firing squad with voters being allowed to shoot...if of course he is found guilty ...

4 ▼ Deliberately misprinted Republican ballots to force throwing into adjudication. Diabolical. What is the chance there are any ballots still around from 2016. Because if it happened back then too, then this is provable fraud. Any pedes with a phone photo of their 2016 ballot, you have something of value.

1 ▼ It is against the law to take picture of your ballot—for good reason. With the picture of your ballot you could prove for whom you voted and then someone could pay you for your vote. Which is why mail in ballots should only be allowed for true hardship cases.

2 ▼ Frankly, that is a idiot law and implausible. Even without a photo, many union workers are in effect paid to vote Democrat.

4 ▼ that would indicate one to be an official ballot and the other to have been printed elsewhere. This is why the Trump team wants to examine the ballot paper and magnetic ink.

3 ▼ No consequences for them then we should use the same playbook. Get a dominion machine from Fl County to count Georgia's electors and keep running through the machine until President Trump wins. vvrnen

Make them prove the machines have accurate votes and then if they do throw them in jail for vote fraud

Fuck them back.

We could find Trump ballots at the landfill and bring them in to be counted. EVERY VOTE MUST COUNT.
That would flip the election back to us. If the elites aren't interested in upholding the laws and rules of elections, why not use their nonsense against them. If they are allowed to find thousands of ballots in closets and trunks of cars all around the country, why not us?

You all keep asking why no consequences. You already know the answer. They have us boxed out. Law enforcement, judges and officials. There is no one to call now to bring justice.

▼ I watched the whole testimony. Nobody can get ballots to look at so how does he have ballots to look at? How many were like this? The bg color is red and blue in presentation, but next to that it said one was from a different county and they both clearly say Fulton County. Legislature said they will get this guy the ballots. He'd better bring it with this shit and not be a fucking con.
